INTRODUCTION

The North Carolina Certified Peer Support Specialist (NCCPSS) Program is an initiative of the Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities, and Substance Use Services (DMH/DD/SUS). The Program is implemented by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Social Work (UNC-CH). The Program adheres to the policies of the State of North Carolina, DMH/DD/SUS, and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (UNC-CH). The Program reserves the right to amend and modify its policies at any time. Changes will be posted by Program staff on the NC CPSS Programs website.

NCCPSS PROGRAM VISION STATEMENT

To develop a qualified Certified Peer Support Specialist workforce that has support, access, credibility, competency, respect, and a valued role within the mental health and substance use disorder and behavioral health service system. CPSS uses their lived experience to positively impact the lives of individuals experiencing mental health and addiction challenges.

GUIDING VALUES OF THE NCCPSS PROGRAM

The NCCPSS Program values:

- Individuals with lived experience have an essential role to play in the public mental health/substance use disorder system and are considered peer supporters.
- The roles within the service delivery system should fully utilize the lived experience of the peer supporter, viewing it as a credential that the individual brings to work.
- Lived experience is necessary, and ongoing skill development and training for peer support are essential.
- A recovery-friendly environment in the workplace is essential to the success and recovery paths of peer support and the individuals it serves.
- Peer supports are highly valued members of an agency; therefore, they are to be fully integrated members of the mental health/substance use disorder delivery system.
- Equality and respect between peer support and traditional professionals must be reciprocal.
- Choice and self-determination are essential components in everyone's recovery.
- Self-directed recovery does happen, with or without professional help.

DEFINITIONS

The NCCPSS Program defines Peer Support Specialists as people living in recovery from mental health and/or substance use disorders. They provide support to others who can benefit from their lived experiences. The Program certifies persons with lived recovery experience in Serious Mental Illness (SMI), substance use disorders (SUD), or both who have completed the required training.

Certified Peer Support Specialists are people in recovery from a mental illness and/or substance use disorder who meet the criteria outlined by the DMH/DD/SUS and are approved to provide support to others who can benefit from their experiences. The North Carolina Certified Peer Support Specialist Program ensures that the peer has met a set of requirements necessary to support individuals with mental health or substance use disorders.

Serious Mental Illness (SMI)

The National Institute of Mental Health defines "Serious mental illness (SMI) as a mental, behavioral, or emotional disorder resulting in serious functional impairment, which substantially interferes with or limits one or more major life activities. The burden of mental illnesses is particularly concentrated among those who experience disability due to SMI." Based on the definition of SMI, not all conditions individuals experience qualify as SMI. For example, sadness resulting from life stressors such as divorce and losing a loved one may not necessarily mean an individual has an SMI. However, it still could potentially lead to a mental health/substance use situation if it begins to impact the individual's life negatively or becomes disabling.

The emphasis is on the disabling aspect of mental illness. The illness must significantly affect the person's thinking, emotional state, and behavior. The condition must disrupt the person's ability to work, carry out daily activities, or engage in satisfying relationships.

SMI may be grouped under the following categories:

- Mood disorders – depressive disorders, bipolar disorders
- Anxiety disorders – posttraumatic stress disorder, for example
- Psychotic Disorders – schizophrenia, delusional disorder, schizoaffective disorder

Substance Use Disorders (SUD)

SAMHSA defines SUD's as "a mental disorder that affects a person's brain and behavior, leading to a person's inability to control their use of substances such as legal or illegal drugs, alcohol, or medications."

Examples of substances are:

- Alcohol
- Marijuana
- Opioids (Oxycodone, Oxymorphone, Hydrocodone, Hydromorphone, Fentanyl, etc.)
- Cocaine
- Methamphetamine

RECOVERY

SAMHSA states, "Recovery signals a dramatic shift in the expectation for positive outcomes for individuals who experience mental and substance use conditions or the co-occurring of the two." SAMHSA outlined four dimensions of recovery as follows:

Health:

- Overcoming or managing one's disease(s) or symptoms, and making informed, healthy choices that support physical and emotional well-being

Home:

- Having a stable and safe place to live

Purpose:

- Conducting meaningful daily activities, such as a job, school volunteerism, family caretaking, or creative endeavors, and the independence, income, and resources to participate in society

Community:

- Having relationships and social networks that provide support, friendship, love, and hope

The NC Division of Mental Health, Developmental Disabilities and Substance Use Services (DMH/DD/SUS) developed the State Peer Support Service definition which states "Recovery is a process of change through which an individual improves their health and wellness, lives a self-directed life and strives to reach their full potential; to live, work, learn, and participate fully in their communities." The State also defines the following concepts relevant to recovery:

- Self-Determination - the right of an individual to direct his or her own services, make decisions regarding their health and well-being, and receive assistance in decision-making from whomever they choose.
- Self-advocacy – identifying and purposefully asking for what one needs.
- Health - involves learning to manage, overcome, or live more effectively with symptoms while making healthy choices that support both physical and emotional well-being.
- Community – Cultivating and enhancing relationships and social networks that offer support, friendship, love, and hope.

Recovery is a process that holds different meanings for different people. It is also personal; individuals may use various tools or pathways to progress toward positive outcomes in their lives. The NCCPSS Program recognizes many pathways to recovery, including harm reduction. Below are the recovery paths acknowledged by the NCCPSS Program.

North Carolina's Certified Peer Support Specialist Program Policies

Pathway	Examples
Clinical Pathways - Recovery procedures are supported by the expertise of a healthcare provider, clinician, or other qualified professional.	Examples of clinical pathways of treatment include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Medication therapy • Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) • Counseling • Medication for Opioid Disorder (MOUD)
Non-Clinical Pathways - Recovery procedures are peer-supported and often community-based but do not involve a licensed clinician.	Examples of Non-clinical Pathways include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Faith-based recovery • Peer-Support services • Mutual-aid Programs (NA/AA)
Self-Management - Recovery processes may be considered "natural recovery" because they do not involve conventional services.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Spontaneous Recovery

The NCCPSS Program supports recovery-friendly organizations and is available to help understand the various pathways to recovery. It requires all certification applicants to meet the Program's eligibility requirements and submit a complete certification application by mail or online.

Please note that the Program does not certify individuals recovering from caffeine or tobacco misuse.

VIOLATIONS OF POLICIES

The NCCPSS Program will impose sanctions on individuals, course owners, or trainers who violate the policies governing Program implementation. Sanctions may include, but are not limited to, denial of certification for applicants.

Denial of Certification (see Denied Applications policy): Certification will be denied to applicants who:

- Do not meet the eligibility criteria established by DMHDDSUS, or
- Submit false or misleading information as part of their application.
- References do not support recovery experience or cannot attest to the applicant's ability to perform the functions of a peer support. The applicant may not have another opportunity to submit an updated reference letter, and the NCCPSS Program does not share reference letters with applicants.

Applicants who do not meet the required criteria must wait until they are eligible before reapplying. Those found to have submitted misinformation, or inaccurate details will be ineligible for certification for two years.

VIOLATIONS OF TRAINING/TRAINER POLICIES

The NCCPSS Program requires course owners and trainers of certification courses to review and follow the NCCPSS Program Policies. By receiving a certificate of approval or submitting a signed copy of the Trainer Code of Conduct, course owners or certified trainers of certification courses agree to comply with all NCCPSS Program policies. Violating any policy or taking actions that contradict the spirit and ethics of peer support and the NCCPSS Program will result in the following penalties.

- Written Reprimand - A formal rebuke issued to a course owner or trainer found to have violated specific policies during an investigation. The Program will send a formal reprimand to the course owner or trainer, who will have 30 business days to respond with a correction or a plan of action. If the issue is not resolved after the correction plan is implemented, the Program will escalate to the next level of sanction.
- Suspension: A suspension occurs when the course owner or trainer receives a written reprimand, and the issue remains unaddressed. A suspension means the certification course or trainer will be removed from the PSS Website effective the suspension date. The Program will not recognize training certificates earned through a certification course during the suspension period. A certification course or trainer may be suspended under the following conditions:
 - A suspension of three (3) months will occur if the certification course or trainer fails to follow corrective action. Additionally, they may be suspended for violating two policies simultaneously or for consecutive policy violations after receiving a written reprimand.
 - A six-month suspension will be imposed if the certification course or trainer fails to comply with a second corrective action plan. The Program, certification course, or trainer will develop a new plan. A certification course or trainer may be suspended for three months if they violate more than two policies at the same time.
 - One-year suspension if a second corrective plan is not satisfactorily completed. A certification course or trainer may face a one-year suspension if they violate the policies more than three times within a year.

North Carolina's Certified Peer Support Specialist Program Policies

- Revocation of State Approval for Course or Certified Trainer Status - The Program will revoke the certification course approval if the course has been suspended and the issue remains unresolved. Additionally, a trainer's certification will be revoked if they violate policies following suspension. The revocation of the trainer's certificate means they cannot train the certification course for two (2) years.

The NCCPSS Program will adhere to a complaint process to determine any violations and notify the course owner or trainer in writing of the breach and applicable sanctions.

Failure to submit a complete recertification application by the end date of their current certification will result in the certification lapsing unless they apply for late recertification.

Please note that the NCCPSS Program cannot recertify CPSS while an investigation into an alleged Code of Ethics violation is ongoing. CPSS may be recertified depending on the outcome of the investigation. Additionally, recertification may be denied if a submitted reference letter does not support the CPSS's capacity to continue serving in the role.

LATE RECERTIFICATION

PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to allow CPSS additional time to renew their certification.

POLICY

The NC CPSS Program requires CPSS to recertify every two (2) years. After the last day of the month that a CPSS is due for renewal, the CPSS may apply for late recertification in the month following their recertification due date.

The CPSS must submit the required documents for recertification and pay a late fee of $20 (in addition to the $20 processing fee).

If a CPSS does not renew their certification within the late recertification period, their certification will lapse, and the CPSS will have to apply as a new applicant to reinstate their status as a CPSS.

You will NOT be required to submit a new training certificate for a certification course unless your certification has lapsed.

RESPONSIBILITY

CPSS:

- It is the responsibility of the CPSS to renew their certification.

PENDING APPLICATIONS

PURPOSE

This policy explains the process for pending applications for certification and recertifications.

POLICY

The NC CPSS Program will process completed applications within 5-7 business days of receipt. An application is not considered complete until the Program staff has received all required documents.

Program staff will contact applicants with incomplete applications within three business days of receipt to request the necessary documents. Applicants must respond to the request within six months to continue the certification or recertification process.

All incomplete applications not rectified within six months of submission will be deemed inactive and require resubmission by the applicant.

RESPONSIBILITY

Applicant:

- It is the applicant's responsibility to submit the required documents for certification.
- Applicant is responsible for checking the status of their application.

NCCPSS Program:

- Program staff will contact pending applicants for additional information as needed, within the required timeframe.
- Program staff will contact the applicant if additional information is needed to process the application. If no response is received from the applicant within six months, program staff will close out the application.

DENIED APPLICATION

PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to establish clear, consistent criteria for denying NCCPSS certification applications when eligibility or suitability requirements are not met. This policy ensures the integrity of the certification process by confirming that certified individuals meet established standards of lived experience, recovery, and readiness to provide peer support services. This policy applies to all individuals applying for Peer Support Specialist certification or recertification.

POLICY

The NCCPSS Program reserves the right to review all application materials and make determinations regarding approval or denial based on established certification standards and program requirements. Denied applicants cannot submit a new application for 2 years, or as otherwise stated in the denial letter. An application for certification or recertification may be denied for any of the following reasons, including but not limited to:

- Failure to Meet Lived Experience Eligibility Criteria: The applicant does not meet the required criteria for lived experience, including:
 - A self-identified history of significant mental illness and/or substance use disorder, as defined by program standards; or
 - Insufficient documentation or disclosure demonstrating that the applicant meets the eligibility requirements for lived experience necessary to fulfill the peer role. Please note that recovery dates or answers to the qualifying questions cannot be changed after the application is submitted.
- Recovery Status Not Adequately Supported: The applicants cannot demonstrate a level of recovery experience sufficient to provide support to others. An application may be denied if:
 - One or more required references do not attest to the applicant's recovery, stability, or readiness to serve in a peer support role; or
 - A reference explicitly indicates that the applicant is not currently suitable to function as a Peer Support Specialist; or
 - Reference responses raise concerns regarding the applicant's ability to model recovery, maintain appropriate boundaries, or fulfill the responsibilities of the role.
- Overall Application Review: The applicant may be denied when, after a holistic review of the application, including documentation, references, and other required materials, the NCCPSS Program determines that the applicant does not currently meet certification standards. The NCCPSS Program does not share reference letters with applicants.

- Lack of Authenticity of Recovery Statement: Recovery statements must be written entirely by the applicant and reflect their genuine lived experience and personal recovery journey. The use of artificial intelligence tools, automated writing software, or assistance from others is not permitted. Any statement found to be AI-generated, significantly assisted, or not authentically authored by the applicant may result in denial of the application.
- Active/Pending Complaint: An application for certification or recertification may be denied if there is an active complaint, investigation, or regulatory review involving the applicant with the State that calls into question the applicant's eligibility, professional conduct, or suitability for certification. In such cases, the Program may defer or deny a decision until the matter is resolved. Determinations will be made based on the nature of the complaint and any available information, in accordance with program standards.

RESPONSIBILITY

Applicant:

- The applicant is responsible for selecting referees who can speak to their recovery.
- The applicant is responsible for providing accurate information, including recovery time, resources utilized, and a description of their recovery experience, to accurately reflect the mental health or substance use challenge experienced.
- The applicant may appeal the decision within 10 business days by writing to the Director at nccpssprogram@unc.edu with the subject line "Appeal for Certification Denial." Appeals submitted more than 10 business days after the due date may not be reviewed.

NCCPSS Program

- The NCCPSS Program Staff is responsible for reviewing applications against the criteria outlined by the DMH/DD/SUS. This is done using a standardized evaluation process to ensure consistency, fairness, and objectivity to the best of their ability. Denial decisions are based on objective criteria and documentation submitted by the applicant, including required references. No single factor is determinative unless it directly disqualifies the applicant under the established certification requirements. The following process determines denial:
 - Application is flagged
 - Application is evaluated by three (3) staff members, including the Program Manager
 - A minimum of two (2) out of three (3) reviewers need to agree that the application does not meet the criteria for certification
- The NCCPSS Program staff will notify applicants who are denied certification in writing, to include:
 - The application review process in its entirety.
 - Indicate which certification requirements were not met at this time; and
 - Clarify that denial does not necessarily prevent future reapplication.

Please note that specific reference content or confidential details will not be disclosed.

LAPSED CERTIFICATION

PURPOSE

The policy is to clarify when a CPSS's certification has lapsed and the steps to take to reinstate their certificate.

POLICY

A CPSS certification is considered lapsed if it is not renewed within the month of expiration or 30 days after the last day of the month in which the certificate expired. For example, if the certification expires on June 15, a CPSS must recertify by July 30 at the latest.

However, after June 30, a $20 late fee will be added to the recertification. After this date, the certification lapses, and the applicant must reapply for a new certification.

The requirements for reinstating a lapsed certification will be the same as those for an applicant certifying for the first time.

RESPONSIBILITY

CPSS

- If a certification has lapsed, it is the responsibility of the CPSS to reinstate their certification before working as a CPSS.
- CPSS may NOT use the title of a Certified Peer Support Specialist if their certification has lapsed.

NCCPSS Program

- The Program will manage lapses and process applications for reinstatement as a new certification.

TRAINING CANCELLATION - TRAINERS

PURPOSE

The training cancellation policy outlines expectations for Certified Trainers regarding in-person Foundations of Peer Support (Part II) training when it is canceled.

POLICY

The NCCPSS Program requires all Certified Trainers to conduct classes as scheduled. If a Certified Trainer is unable to hold a class for any reason, they must notify the NCCPSS Program and all registered participants by email at least 48 hours before the scheduled start time, or Friday, if the class starts on Monday.

Certified Trainers with a roster of more than five registered participants who must cancel a class due to participant no-shows, late cancellations, or inclement weather will be eligible to receive a $350.00 stipend for their time and effort. To qualify for the stipend, the Certified Trainer must complete the following:

- Inform participants of the cancellation policy during the registration process
- In cases of inclement weather, notify participants of alternative class times
- Send a reminder email to participants at least 48 hours before the start of class.
- Provide support to participants in enrolling in another training session.
- Submit attendance records to the NCCPSS Program, clearly identifying no-shows.

The NCCPSS Program may request documentation to verify completion of these requirements.

- The Certified Trainer must provide evidence of completion of the tasks outlined in this policy.
